

Interested in becoming a medical laboratory scientist?

Are you interested in science, technology, and medicine? The Mass General Brigham Medical Laboratory Science Program offers an accelerated route to launch your laboratory career. Gain hands-on experience at world-renowned teaching hospitals and earn a post-baccalaureate certificate from Mass General Brigham in just 10 months!

What is a medical laboratory scientist?

Medical laboratory scientists (MLS) are critical members of the healthcare team that perform complex laboratory testing on biological specimens using sophisticated methodology and instrumentation. Results of laboratory testing are used by healthcare providers to detect, diagnose, and monitor human disease.

It is estimated that 70% of medical decisions are based on the interpretation of lab results performed by MLS.

Interested in learning more?

Register for a virtual information session and take the first step toward a new career!

Virtual information sessions are available on the third Thursday of each month from 4:00-5:00 p.m.

Register here!

Questions?

Visit the MGB MLS Program Website
or contact: MGBMLSinfo@partners.org

Program overview

Start an exciting new career in just 10 months with Mass General Brigham's Medical Laboratory Science program!

The Mass General Brigham accelerated MLS certificate program provides training and real-world practical experiences at the nation's top teaching hospitals. Learn from seasoned laboratory professionals and leaders through a rigorous, hands-on curriculum in a dedicated training laboratory outfitted with equipment and instrumentation commonly used in the clinical laboratory setting. Gain in-demand skills across all major laboratory disciplines including hematology, chemistry, microbiology, blood bank, and more.

In less than a year, students will develop the technical skills and knowledge needed to excel in this growing field. Earn your MLS certificate and immediately enter the rewarding medical laboratory scientist workforce.

Graduates of the MGB MLS program are eligible to sit for the nationally recognized American Society for Clinical Pathology Medical Laboratory Scientist board of certification exam.

Apply now and jumpstart your healthcare career!